National Webinar on “Pandemic Effect in India: Educational, Social and Mental Health Challenges and Opportunities,”

Date	06-07-2020
Purpose of the Programme	Discussion and awareness on the impact of Covid-19
Participants	140

A National Webinar on “Pandemic Effect in India: Educational, Social and Mental Health Challenges and Opportunities,” jointly conducted by Dept. of Education and IQAC, Mayang Anchalik College on 6th July, 2020. Dr. Nilima Bhagawati, Retired Professor, Department of Education, Gauhati University, Guwahati, Assam is invited as Resource Person and she talks on the effect of Covid-19 and Lock Down specially on the youth and the elderly people. The lockdown has forced people to remain confined in their houses, and as we are social beings, with no contact with the society has greatly impacted our mental and physical health. But we have to adjust with this new normal and consider it a part of our daily life. We should try to find out ways to cope up with this change. This type of webinar is prime example and I think it has given us a new outlook to life, and help us discover new aspects which we had never even considered before. Similarly, Digital classes are being conducted; family members are getting connected over social media platforms like WhatsApp, Facebook etc. Thus, we should change ourselves and get equipped with new skills which will help us to cope up with this new situation. Total number of participants was 140.

National Webinar on “COVID – 19: A Gendered Analysis”
Date	27-07-2020
Purpose of the Programme	To discuss on Impact of Covid-19 on Women
Participants	307

The Department of English organises a National level Webinar on the topic “COVID – 19: A Gendered Analysis.” Since the beginning of the year 2020, the entire world is fighting with COVID – 19. As the rate of infection is increasing day by day, we have to be confined to our homes due to the ongoing lockdown. Recent studies have pointed out that discrimination on the basis of gender have increased in this period of lockdown. But Gender Discrimination is not a thing of the present; it has plagued the entire human society since times immemorial. This has proven to be a great hindrance in the path of development of the society as a whole. The entire world is trying to curb this problem, and this can be exemplified by the Sustainable Development Goals of the UN, where the fifth point itself points towards Gender Equality. Moreover, the UGC has also instructed educational institutions to conduct webinars, Video conference related to various Gender issues, to make people aware of this problem. For this Mayang Anchalik College need to have a detailed analysis on the present scenario, particularly in this time of COVID, and to know about the role to be played, by gender in this New Normal Era, i.e, the Post-Pandemic Era. To deliberate on this topic, Mayang Anchalik College invites Professor Alpana Borgohain, Head, Department of Women’s Studies, Gauhati University, an eminent personality in this field. Mr. Ranjan Timsina, Head of the Department, English conducts the Webinar as host participant and Dr. Mahananda Borah, Principal of the College delivers welcome speech. From this webinar the participants were greatly benefitted from her thoughts and views on this topic. Total number of participants was 307.

WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY

NATIONAL WEBINAR TO OBSERVE
WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY
ON THE TOPIC
THE ANTHROPOCENE EARTH AND ENVIRONMENT

RESOURCE PERSON:

Human actions since the industrial revolution in late eighteenth century and more significantly since mid-twentieth century have put indelible mark on the earth system with debilitating impact on its environmental health. This has resulted in accelerated greenhouse gas emissions, alarming reduction in forest cover and an overall stress on the finite earth resources. Their cumulative impact has forced the earth system itself to respond to the changes (Head, 2019). Thus, mankind is now a major agent of change in the earth system, and it is the core of the concept of 'Anthropocene' (Cruzen, 2002), a perceived newest and youngest time unit in the ~4600million years of earth history. Thus, On the occasion of World Environment Day, it is imperative to reflect on the past, present and future of the earth's environment and how the key indicators are responding to human triggered changes in the earth system.
